THE HISTORY

• More than 20 years of milestones have set the stage for our work today

THE NEED

• Wildfires have been growing in size, duration, and destructivity.
• Nearly a quarter of the contiguous United States remain at moderate to very high risk of severe wildfires.
• We must dramatically increase fuels and forest health treatments on America’s forests.
CONFRONTING THE WILDFIRE CRISIS

The Forest Service wildfire crisis strategy combines an historic investment from congressional funding with years of scientific research and planning into a national effort that will dramatically increase the scale of forest health treatments.

Treating up to an additional 20 million acres of National Forest System lands.

Treating up to an additional 30 million acres of other Federal, State, Tribal, and private lands.

Developing a plan for long-term maintenance beyond the 10 years.
HIGH-RISK FIRESHEDS

Community exposure is a central factor in the strategy to confront the wildfire crisis. Other factors include Tribal and State plans, watersheds, equity, climate forecasts, and partner priorities.
IMPLEMENTATION

• Years 1-2. Early implementation.
• Years 3-10. The right work, in the right place, at the right scale.
AGENCY EXPECTATIONS

- Active management
- Engagement
- Equitability
- Accountability

OUR ASK TODAY

• WHAT are we trying to achieve?

Let’s work together to shift the future for our forests
WHAT SUCCESS WILL LOOK LIKE IN 2031

• Treated up to 20 million acres on the National Forest System and an up to 30 million acres on other Federal, State, Tribal, and private lands in the West.

• A plan for long-term maintenance.

• A paradigm shift in the way we work.
