

Trees for US

Corporate Partnership Recognition Levels

As a Trees for US partner, there are many benefits to working with the National Forest Foundation (NFF). Trees for US partnerships reap tangible conservation results for our nation's forests, watersheds, wildlife, and recreation resources. They can also creatively engage employees and customers in helping support and care for our forests. Most importantly, in partnership with the NFF, companies can demonstrate their commitment to perpetuating our uniquely American legacy of public lands.

The NFF recognizes Trees for US partners in many ways, including through our Web site, publications, e-newsletters, social media and press outreach. The recognition benefits listed here are based on the cumulative value of the corporate tree-planting partner's gift levels as well as additional impressions and public outreach benefits the NFF may realize through the partnership.
